

Marysol Hope Fernández Harvey

New York • (787) 363-5828 • marysolhfernandez@gmail.com

Education:

Brown University, Bachelor of Arts in Comparative Literature and Economics
Magna Cum Laude; Phi Beta Kappa

Professional Experience

TCC Group (2021 – present)

Associate Consultant – October 2022 – present

Analyst – October 2021 – October 2022

- Partner with a national corporate funder in the HIV movement space, supporting the management of a $30 million grantmaking portfolio to community-based organizations.
- Lead the strategy and implementation of the AMP Grant Initiative, resourcing grassroots organizations, networks and individuals working in and at the intersection of HIV work through an innovative, intermediary micro-granting funding model.
- Serve on the Race, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (REDI) Committee.

Writing Fellow, The Horizons Project (2023 – present)

- Lead research, data analysis, stakeholder engagement, and writing for a series of “caselets” highlighting learnings from successful collaborations of non-violent action and peacebuilding processes to support efforts to strengthen democracy in the United States.

Truman Scholar Summer Intern, Catalogue for Philanthropy (May 2021 – August 2021)

- Supported over 400 small community organizations in Washington D.C. through capacity building and network strengthening.

Coordinator, Community Dialogue Project (September 2020 – May 2021)

- Designed and facilitated trainings for student leaders and organizations in Emergent Strategy facilitation, conflict resolution, and consensus building.
- Advised the Office of Student Relations on the incorporation of equity and inclusion practices in student orientation planning and successfully advocated for greater representation of student voices in the planning committee.

Awards and Fellowships

- Fellowship for Emerging Leaders in Public Service, 2023 - Selected for a rigorous bi-weekly leadership program at NYU to enhance leadership and management skills, engage in discussions with high-level public service executives, develop a career plan, and build a cross-sector leadership network.
- Truman Scholar, 2020 – One of 62 Truman Scholars recognized for “exceptional academic ability and commitment to public service.”
- Royce Fellow, 2020 – Conducted research in residence in Puerto Rico on Constitutional Transformation for the decolonization of Puerto Rico.
- Cogut Fellow, 2021 – One of four undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary, collegial research seminar at Brown University, workshopping a thesis project within the Department of Comparative Literature.

Relevant Activities

- Brown Daily Herald (September 2017 – May 2021) – staff columnist focusing on issues surrounding Puerto Rico, Latin America, and the role of the Latin(e) diaspora in the U.S.
- Watson Institute Student Speaker (April 2021) – one of three undergraduate students selected to present at an undergraduate research forum on the Royce Research Project on the possibilities and limitations of Constitutional Transformation in Puerto Rico.
- Journal of Politics Philosophy and Economics (September 2018 – May 2020) – First a content editor and, since 2019, the Director of Politics leading the publication of academic work.
- Watson Institute Student Advisory Committee (September 2019 – May 2020) – organized and oversaw a student committee influencing institute policy on issues of student programming, diversity and inclusion, and decolonizing the curriculum.

Languages

Spanish (native, fluent)

English (native, fluent)